

A short course taught in two blocks

Investigating Human Incidents and Injury

This course will be of interest to people associated with accident & incident investigation including:

- Those conducting investigations
- Health & Safety personnel
- Managers with responsibility and accountability for Health & Safety
- Health & Safety personnel
- Quality & Safety personnel
- Those involved in the ACC Workplace Incentives Programmes (ACC Partnership Programme)

KEY SPEAKERS

include specialists in:

- Healthcare
- Occupational Medicine
- Organisational Psychology
- Accident Investigation (from a range of industries & regulatory authorities)

COST

$928 + GST per person
Discount to $850 + GST per person for 5 or more staff from the same organisation

VENUE

The University of Auckland
School of Population Health
Tamaki Campus.

30 July to 1 August
&
17 to 19 September
2007

WORKPLACE ACCIDENTS ARE EXPENSIVE IN HUMAN AND MONETARY COSTS

*Are you sure your organisation's investigative processes add value
and contribute positively to enhancing safety and productivity in your workplace?*

THE COURSE WILL ENABLE YOU TO:

- Understand why and how accidents and incidents happen
- Recognise the strengths and weaknesses of various investigative models
- Enhance your ability to undertake best practice safety investigation
- Design appropriate intervention and prevention strategies

Other HEALTH, PERFORMANCE & SAFETY in the workplace

University Degrees and Diploma Programmes

- Occupational Medicine
- Occupational Health
Nursing
- Managed Care/ Case
Management

SHORT COURSES

Are offered by the University outside of the usual degree or diploma structure. They are open to all students who may not otherwise qualify for entry to a University Programme

TAKE YOUR NEXT CAREER STEP -
CONTACT US NOW

Contact Christine Ganly 3737599 ext 82861 or c.ganly@auckland.ac.nz